Conscription Of All Workers In War Urged

Banker and Manual Laborer Should Serve Under Same Orders, Ordnance Chief Tells Mining Congress

New Tariff Ruling Read

All Petitions Under Flexible Provisions to Be Referred to Commission for Action

CLEVELAND, Oct. 12 (By The Assostated Press) .- A proposal to draft all workers, from banker to laborer, in war time, advocated by Colonel L. H. Ruggles, of the United States Ordnance Department, and announcement by William H. Culbertson, vice-chairman the United States Tariff Commission, of an order by President Harding that all investigations under the flexible provisions of the tariff law for a change in rates should be filed with the commission, featured to-night's session of the American Mining Con-

"When the drafting of labor at home s mentioned it should not be understood to apply only to manual laborrs, frequently referred to as workers." Colonel Ruggles declared. "It should include every male citizen physically and mentally capable of service in the defense of his country. If we can draft men's lives, we certainly can draft men's lives, we certainly can draft their business during an emergency. Such a plan should be of universal application. It should apply to the banker as well as to the laborer. Each man would be required to keep at the work assigned to him, as a soldier must stay on his job.

"There would be no striking for higher wages, no absence without leaves, no quitting one job to go around the block and hold up another agency for higher wages.

Would "Freeze" Wages.

Would "Freeze" Wages "The conditions of the universal draft would have to be worked out carefully. Wages and profits would have to be frozen at figures obtaining when war is declared. Adjustments, of course, would be worked out in exceptional cases, such as the high cost of production of certain needed materials which could not be produced economically in the required amounts in time of peace. Arrangements for just and moderate compensation of owners of plants and capital would have to be devised.

"The benefits of such a universal draft not only in speeding up the production of munitions and other necessities in time of national danger, but in hastening the return to normalcy when the war is over, are so great that the thought deserves the most carnest consideration of all patriotic Americans." "The conditions of the universal

f War Weeks suggested to-day that the system of adjusting labor disputes now in vogue in the Panama Canal now in vogue in the Panama Canal Zone could be applied to an advantage in connection with the railroad lines of the United States, after a brief conference with Harvey McConoughey, a member of the wage and complaints committee of the Canal Zone, in which both officials agreed that labor conditions on the waterway were satisfactory.

Secretary Weeks announced that the open shop policy had been in operation in the Canal Zone for the last nine months, and that it had been agreed to continue this system of dealing with labor on the canal.

Commenting on the success of the system of adjusting labor disputes through conferences with representatives of the men and the government, Secretary Weeks said that if the railroad systems of the United States were divided into districts as the army is divided into nine corps areas, it would be possible for representatives of the railroad management and employees to get together and determine the merits of all labor disputes and reach settlements.

Alexander Krunas, a tailor who had been without work for several weeks and had only two cents in his pocket; killed himself about 5:30 p. m. yesterday by jumping from the south side of the Williamsburg Bridge near the Brooklyn tower.

He struck the sidewalk of South Sixth Street near Dunham Place, just in front of John English, of Clymer Street and Wythe Avenue, Brooklyn, and Robert Crowe, of 135 Java Street, Brooklyn, English, who came within a few inches of being struck and almost stepped on the body, suffered from shock and required medical attention.

several persons on the bridge made an ineffectual attempt to seize the man as he climbed the railing, which is low at this point. Several persons have jumped the 150 feet or more to the street near the same place recently. Stanley Rich, of 605 Hart Street, Brooklyn, who formerly roomed with Krunas, identified the body at the Bedford Avenue police station. He did not know where Krunas had been living recently.

$150 Is Paid for Half Interest in Queen Bee

AMENIA, N. D., Oct. 12.-A half interest in Achievement Girl, Queen Honey Bee of the Amenia Apiaries, has been sold to J. M. Cutter & Son., of Montgom-ery, Ala., for $150, setting a new record for bee values, according to W. A. Crites, manager of the Amenia Bee Farm.

The Queen was mailed to Alabama, where she will pass the winter, to be returned to North Dakota next spring. She was a member of a colony which last summer set one of three world's records for honey production, according to Mr. Crites.

Mr. Culbertson said that on October?
The President had signed an order that "all requests applications or petitions for action" under flexible provisions of the tariff law "shall be filed with or referred to the United States Tariff Commission."

He said that consideration of individual tariff rates "will undoubtedly be broadly construed" and that the powers conferred on the President by the new tariff law will "lead to greater stability."

"The commission will be at liberty to narrow or widen the scope of any case laid before it and will not be limited in its findings to the relief asked by the applicant," Mr. Culbertson added. "The proceedings will be of a judicial character. The commission."

With a roar that was heard for blocks an automobile owned by Barney Oldfield, the raser, plunged up Riverside Drive early yesterday at more than a mile a minute, jumped the curb at Eighty-ninth Street, near the Soldiers and Sailors' Monument, and crashed into a tree, killing one man and severely injuring two others.

The dead man is Joseph S. Degnon, of 3 West Ninety-eighth Street, who was crushed when he was catapulted against the tree. He is believed to have been riding on the extra seat alongside the driver. The injured are Edward S.O'Donnell, twenty-two years old, of 444 West Twenty-sixth Street, a chauffeur, and Edward McKee, thirty-ty-three, also a chauffeur, of 490 Eleventh Avenue.

Why Finkelstein & Maisel Have Won Public Favor

Giving Every One the Advantage of Actual Wholesale Clothing Prices Is Of Course the Main Reason

Wholesale!—magical words indeed for those who want the best at the true standard measure of low prices, especially in so far at the term relates to men's and young men's fine clothing. But merely quoting wholesale prices has not proven the only factor in the extraordinary success attained by this firm since the day it defled many retail dealers' protests and proclaimed its factory doors open to the buying of the general public.

It set, as it did in its past history in selling to the trade only, a very high standard of quality in every suit and overcoat it manu-

Only the purest of woolens are used in every garment, and that means the rejection of every piece of woolens below the 100 per cent test. But the story doesn't end here. What of the cut, style and fit? Ah, now you are getting to our piece de resistance!

Try on a suit or overcoat! If it doesn't fit you in the mast satisfactory manner the loss is all ours. You get your money back at once, without question. And this very fair, square way of dealing applies to every part of your purchase—the woolens, the trimmings

Does a firm doing business on these lines deserve your patronage? The question is best answered by the ever increasing volume of business we are doing—with eminent jurists, journalists, bankers, prominent business men and the like—not because of the savings, but mainly because, we honestly believe, they feel or know they cannot do better anywhere at any price.

However, what are our prices? All wool suits and overcosts, $17.44, $22.78, and our famous special at $24.88 for a suit, with two pair of trousers, of the very finest quality, or a winter overcost, satin-lined of similar grade.

Figure it out for yourself; shop around, demand full particulars—particularly on the 100 per cent. woolen question (remembering woolen prices have shot skyward) and then come here. Then and then only can you appreciate what Finkelstein & Maisel mean to every man and young man who wants the best in clothing at virtually half the prices they have been accustomed to paying.
